Council Agenda Light

A light business agenda was dealt with at Vulcan Town Council meeting Monday, June 20 attended by Mayor G. Ness and councillors John Wolfe, Bill Giles, George Richardson, Charles Fulton, Bev. Banks and secretary-treasurer M. Sinclair.

Building permits approved were; one private home to be constructed by Revelstoke Building Materials Ltd., at estimated cost of $13,000 and an addition to the H. Rutberg home estimated at $400.

An estimate was asked on cost of bringing the sewer line back across the tracks from Donron Sales and Service.

At previous council meetings councillors have had representation on the issue of fluoridation and at this meeting it was felt a plebiscite on this issue might be considered in conjunction with the fall town elections.

Regarding use of the Vulcan Arena council set a $50 per day rental fee for the building.

It was moved that a letter of appreciation be sent to merchants of the Vulcan District Chamber of Commerce for the manner in which the downtown area was cleaned up following the recent Goodwill Day.

Monthly Meeting Held June 10

The monthly general meeting of the Vulcan CWL was held in the church rectory June 10, with eight members and a guest in attendance.

A short informal meeting preceded the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, in which a number of things were discussed.

A brief note from the Seminarian in Equador was read to the ladies by Margaret J. Shaw.

Short reports were given by the treasurer, social convenor, press convenor, and apostolic convenor. Lorna Gerding presented her regular spiritual report entitled, Psalms, which lead to a very interesting discussion by Father McCallum on the teachings of the faith.

The meeting was then adjourned by Margaret G. Shaw and a tasty lunch was served by Lorna Gerding and Margaret Shaw.

Calgary Power Reminder

July 31st Deadline Set For Jr. Citizen Nominations

Albertans are reminded to send in their nominations now for Calgary Power's Junior Citizen of the Year Awards. The Junior Citizen of the Year Program was inaugurated in 1962 as a public service by Alberta's independent electrical utility companies. Its aim is to make sure that enterprising young Albertans get the recognition they deserve.

Our readers may ask — what makes a Junior Citizen? Some have performed acts of heroism, frequently at the risk of their own lives. Others have excelled in acts of quiet courage such as overcoming physical handicaps or assuming responsibility far beyond their years. Any act qualifies that makes a young person stand out in the eyes of his or her fellow citizens. The winners receive framed certificates and Government Savings Bonds at the annual Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association Convention, which this year will be held in Calgary this fall.

Four of the Junior Citizens of the Year from Calgary Power's service area have won added acclaim because of their heroic actions.

A 1962 winner, Judith Walters of the Felger Colony of Hutterite Brethern of Lethbridge was cited in an article by W. O. Mitchell in a national Canadian magazine for her endeavors towards integration of the Hutterite children in our public school system.

Lynda Dann of Vulcan, a 1964 winner, won her award for rescuing a 10-year old girl from drowning. Lynda was presented with the Mountbatten Medal by Admiral of the Fleet, the Earl Mountbatten of Burma, when he visited Canada recently. Lynda's citation calls it "the most meritorious rescue of the year."

The 1965 winners have also received accolades for their contributions to their communities and families. Theresa Becher of Bashaw won her citizenship award for her unselfish giving of her vocal talents to her community. She recently won two firsts and a second at the Edmonton Musical Festival. She also won a $50 scholarship from an Edmonton radio station, and an additional $90 scholarship to the Banff school of Fine Arts.

Doris Pollard of Chip Lake won a Calgary Power Special Award when she rescued her brothers and sisters from their burning home. She was presented with an award by Lt. Gov. Grant MacEwan on behalf of the Royal Humane Society. Doris performed this heroic rescue when she was just four years old.

Nominations are now being accepted for the 1966 Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Award. Readers who know of deserving young Albertans from 6 to 16 year are invited to contact the editor of this newspaper.

Lomond Supplement Added

Included in this issue of the Advocate is a supplement which salutes Lomond and district on their 50th Anniversary Celebration, July 8, 9 and 10. Also a two-page spread on pages 6 and 7 of the regular edition are devoted to the occasion.

The history of a district such as this can only be briefly reviewed in limited space but it is hoped that reading the supplement will help to re-awaken memories of pioneer days and help to set the scene for next weekend's enjoyment. Extra issues will be available at that time as souvenirs.

The old time photos and much of the story material is revised from that which will appear in the book, "History of Lomond District" to be on sale next weekend. This 375-page book will surely be priceless to the hundreds of residents, present and past, of the area who were a part of the early scene or whose roots are in the district.

To the book committee and particularly Mrs. Velma Booth who as its chairlady, was so helpful in the research for this supplement, the Advocate is deeply grateful. To Mayor B. M. (Pete) Stokes, village secretary-treasurer Mrs. Helen Chapman, mechants and oldtimers of Lomond whose support and co-operation made this possible, the Advocate is indebted.

Gleichen Indians Blood Clinic

Close to 200 donors are expected to give blood at the first blood donor clinic in Alberta to be run entirely by Indians.

The clinic will be held June 30 on the Gleichen reserve.

Volunteer members of the Blackfoot Red Cross branch organized the clinic and will be responsible for registering donors, staffing the recovery room and providing refreshments.

Although a clinic was held on the reserve in 1959 it was organized and run by Gleichen townspeople.

Hospital Rates Climb

Effective July 1, 1966 the co-insurance rate of all active treatment hospitals, including Vulcan Municipal Hospital, will be increased.

Charges are increased from $1.60 per day to $2.50 per day plus an admission charge of $2.50. There is no increase in the regular $1.00 per day new-born rate.

These rates become effective on midnight, June 30 and include patients in the hospital at that time.

Rates applicable to non-eligible in-patients effective July 1 are $20 per day.

Novel Tea Held By Vulcan C.W.L.

The Tea and Wig demonstration sponsored by the ladies of the Vulcan CWL June 8, proved to be a tremendous success with more than a hundred ladies in attendance. The evening began with an unexpected but very humorous skit put on by Alice Scales, Margaret G. Shaw and Rose Douville, in which they modeled the most fashionable wigs.

A most interesting demonstration of hair pieces by Mrs. Dwayne Fletcher of the Alberta Beauty and Barber Supply in Lethbridge, was given, and then followed by a tea served by the CWL ladies.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the Allan Fath children and by Mrs. Evelyn Eberl.

A hair piece and a quilt were raffled at the tea and the winners were Lola Knapp of Brant and Dr. Koziol respectively. The door prize which was a hair styling at Corene's Beauty Shoppe was won by Mrs. Willis McIntyre.

PATRICIA ANN SMITH

Miss Patricia Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Smith of Champion, received her Bachelor of Science in Home Economics from the University of Alberta, Edmonton on June 1. The annual convocation was held at the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium. Patricia took grades one to eleven in Champion and grade twelve in Vulcan, and attended the University of Alberta in Edmonton for the past three years, and is now interning at the Montreal General Hospital in Montreal.

Starting With Parade

July 1st Celebration Has Local Flavor

Ever get the feeling it's time to get out and let your hair down? Kids and all? The Vulcan Elks have just what you're after wrapped in the July 1st Celebration package, Friday of this week.

The Elks are concentrating this year on the afternoon program with an eye on the entertainment of both children and adults. Games, races and rides, featuring a ferris wheel will be added to the diet of free ice cream and treats for the youngsters.

For everyone a varied afternoon of serious gymkhana events and a "Fastball Frolic" headlining, along with athletes from the Elks Lodge, stars from three other co-operating groups, Kinsmen, Lions and Vulcanites, in ball tournament. Also on the diamond during the afternoon will be another ball game, this one more legitimate, with Claresholm ladies meeting gals from Vulcan.

These and other afternoon events (see ad in June 22 edition) will be preceded by the huge downtown parade kicked off at 10:30 a.m. from the C.C.H.S. grounds. Leading the parade will be the Vulcan County Band which will also play a short concert during the noon-time barbecue at the ball grounds.

Another Inch of Rain

Weather Slows Growth But Crop Picture Excellent

Queenstown, with 7.3 inches of rain since May 1 and 0.8 inches last week, leads county points in rainfall, according to Alberta Wheat Pool crop reports. At Queenstown, wheat, oats and barley are standing between 10 and 12 inches in heighth, most farmers have finished their spraying, and summerfallowing and barley is in the shot blade.

For most areas the need is for a steady period of warm weather to advance crops. Last Friday's rainfall brought up to one inch locally while at Lomond two inches were reported.

Estimated possible average yield per acre as indicated by present conditions run from 25 bushels to 45 bushels on wheat, 50 to 100 on oats, 45 to 80 on barley, 15 to 25 on flax, 13 to 35 on rye and 20 to 30 bushels on rapeseed.

At Travers, despite seven inches of rain since May 1, most farmers are irrigating regularly with crops above average for the district.

Some flax crops have emerged poorly because of the hard crusted surface resulting from the heavy rains, and cool weather has held back growth up till now.

Across the province estimated 1966 plantings of wheat are 6,264,000, a rise of 3.5 per cent over 1965. Estimates for oats are 2,624,000, a drop of 1 per cent over last year. Estimates for barley are 3,502,000, a rise of 3.3 per cent over 1965.

Crops west of Vulcan are said to be particularly well advanced and promising with very little difference being noted in size between fields sown 10 days apart.

On Monday of this week the announcement of a 10 bushel quota came through to local elevators which gives an additional two bushels over the previous eight. It is assumed this will be the last increase before the end of the current crop year, July 31 and it will likely clean out stored grain from most smaller farmers who wish to ship. Larger operators could likely make use of an increased quota.

Following a brisk period of shipping the local CPR yards were without cars early this week but it is expected the next four weeks will see much grain shipped out.

Announcement by the Canadian Wheat Board on June 20 of the major 336 million bushels of wheat over the next three years has given a further boost to Western Canadian agriculture.

In a press release, Paul Babey, president of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, urged Canada's railways and grain handlers to upgrade their facilities in preparation for committments arising from this sale.

He urged the railways to demonstrate their awareness of the "monumental task of moving this grain" and make sure there is no recurrence of last year's shipping problems. He felt the government should re-consider building elevator facilities at Prince Rupert in order that the pressure of shipping grain on the eastern seaboard can be reduced. In closing Mr. Babey said "The possibility of increasing prices of wheat and better returns to the wheat producers offers Canadian farmers an incentive to maximum productivity."

Rainfall figures this past week and since May 1 are listed below;

Crime Rewards Slim In Series Of Break-ins, Car Thefts Recently

Two juveniles lost their yen for crime and almost their lives on June 16, in a car wreck on the irrigation bridge on Highway 23 near Barons.

Two Calgary youths, 14 and 12 years of age, set out from the city on Wednesday, June 15 in a stolen auto and at Okotoks they left this one, stole a 1959 Chevrolet and headed towards Lethbridge.

At approximately 3:30 a.m. next morning the older boy apparently fell asleep at the wheel at the approach to the bridge, left the road, vaulted the 99-ft. waterspan and came to rest at the water line on the other side.

The older boy helped his partner out of the auto, through the water to safety and walked some distance to a farm for help. Barons R.C.M.P. were called and the boys were taken to Carmangay hospital where the 14-year-old received 29 stitches to his head while the younger boy was later rushed to Lethbridge hospital by Vulcan ambulance, suffering from a punctured lung.

Both have since been released from hospital and face charges at Okotoks which will be dealt with in juvenile court.

The car was believed to be completely wrecked.

In other crime happenings a rash of garage break-ins between Barons and Mossleigh, believed to be the work of amateurs, yielded almost less than car expenses, the night of June 16.

Van's Esso Service, one-half mile south of Nobleford, was first on the list and four dollars was taken here.

At Champion, Joe Keenan's Champion Motors was entered by breaking a window. The premises were ransacked but only four dollars was found.

Ski-Way Service, owned by Martin Matlock was next in line and the same means of entry was used. Here the thieves took a Remington-Rand counter till and wrecked it in their search for its contents of five dollars. Part of the till was found on the highway.

At Mossleigh an attempt was made to enter a service station there but the vandals, assumed to be the same group, were seen and chased, but managed to escape.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. L. Lindquist on the passing of Mrs. Lindquist's brother in Oliver, British Columbia.

Mrs. L. Brackley, Mrs. K. Elliot and Mrs. C. Hoppa motored to Calgary last Wednesday to tour the Children's Aid Society and the Detention Home for teenagers. A very interesting day was reported.

The Blackie Seed Cleaning Plant will be closed from July 1-18 while manager George Whillans is on holidays.

Congratulations are extended to Edward Johnson whose marriage to Mrs. Martha Scherle took place June 26 at Lakeview United Church.

The new fall grade one class spent a day at school last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Mella have returned from holiday. During their absence F. Pow of Okotoks was relief manager at the Royal Bank.

A donation to the Canadian Cancer Society in an investment in health and happiness.

Lethbridge Pilsner
Lethbridge lager

Some insist on Lethbridge Pilsner, several fine brews deftly blended in the Bavarian tradition. The best of barley, choice rice and our own home-grown hops give it the lively taste that appeals to Albertans. The unique label tells you it's Alberta's original Pilsner.

Others demand our Lethbridge lager – they call it 'bridge. This bright and bracing beer makes the most of its premium malt. The smooth, uniform taste is largely due to our own pure yeast and hops. Micro-filtered 'bridge is mellow, naturally-aged lager beer at its best!

VULCAN DRUGGIST HONORED. Len Slipp of Didsbury, left, newly-elected councillor at the 55th annual Alberta Pharmaceutical convention recently, congratulates David Mitchell, who received a gold spoon for his father, John Mitchell of Vulcan, an active member of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association for 52 years, and who is still practising.

Mr. Mitchell, Sr., received his degree at Ontario College of Pharmacy in 1912 and came to Vulcan in 1941 to set up his drug store business. He has become a well known member of the community and was a charter member of the Vulcan Lions Club to which he still has membership. Illness this spring kept him indoors for some time but he is now able to be out and at the store occasionally.

Mr. Mitchell's interest in community affairs led him to a position on the Vulcan school board in earlier years before centralization was introduced.

CLERICS' CORNER

This week's contributor: M. R. Heebner
Evangelical United Brethren Church

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WORLD?

This is an extremely important question if only because it is asked so often and answered in so many different ways. Christ answered it, not directly but quite plainly by implications. It is most important to realize the paramount authority of what Christ said. Not one of us thinks or speaks or feels without bias, and many of us are prone to mistake theory for fact.

Christ had no bias and offered no theories. He came to give us the facts. Quite plainly He taught that our ability to love, which should be directed to God and other people, has been mis-directed to ourselves. The basic problems of happiness are not intellectual, but emotional. It is 'out of the heart', according to Christ, that there proceed all those things which spoil relationships with individuals or groups of people.

To Christ, the most serious sin was not the mis-direction of the love-energy, which might be due to ignorance or carelessness, but the deliberate refusal to allow it to flow to God and other people. It was pride and self-righteousness and the exploitation of others which called forth His greatest anger. Christ taught that self-love was the soul's arch-enemy. It is this that must be recognized and deliberately killed if a man is to follow Christ's way of love.

Just a few moments of thought show us the truth of His insight. Even though we cannot name any sin which in some way or other does not spring from love of self, yet the sins which do most damage and cause most suffering are those which have the highest content of self-love.

Christ wasted none of His time dealing with mere symptoms. It was the motive and attitude of the heart, (the emotional center) with which He was concerned. It was this that He called upon men to have changed. Once the inner affections are aligned with God the outward expressions of the life will look after itself.

Man's unwillingness to align himself properly with God is what is wrong with the world.

REPORT FROM
Parliament Hill
(By Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.)

THE QUEBEC ELECTION

After a major political turnover, such as that which has recently occured in Quebec, there are always all kinds of explanations offered (hindsight always being better than foresight), but the principal reasons for Mr. Lesage's downfall appear to be as follows:

Firstly— During the election campaign, Mr. Lesage created a very unfortunate image of himself, the image being that of a vain, arrogant and dictatorial man, who insisted on the "right to rule" and who would brook no interference.

Secondly— The Parent Report on Education: This report recommended that the government basically change the whole educational system in Quebec, and would have removed all schools, both Catholic and Protestant, from any religious influence. The merits of this report may be open to argument, but such a sudden and radical departure was obviously not acceptable to the majority of the people in Quebec.

Thirdly— Mr. Lesage and his colleagues spent a great deal of their time seeking lofty ideals and long-range objectives for Quebec, but local problems and matters that affected the voters very personally and very directly were largely ignored.

Fourthly— Despite Mr. Lesage's "quiet revolution" in which he made great efforts to bring the standard of living of Quebec up, and also to give French-Canadians a stronger voice in the management of their own business and commercial affairs, many uncertainties were created by the powerful presence in his cabinet of Rene Levesque and others who often espoused ultra-nationalistic and far-left economic viewpoints which were viewed with suspicion by many Quebecers.

Fifthly— Mr. Lesage greatly underestimated Daniel Johnson's ability to organize his party. Mr. Johnson concentrated on local organization and in obtaining candidates who, in many cases, were far superior to the Lesage candidates.

Some of the men who will form Mr. Johnson's Cabinet in Quebec, such as Clement Vincent (former Federal M.P.) who will undoubtedly be Minister of Agriculture, are highly capable men of sound judgement, who are dedicated to maintaining "One Canada."

One thing that should give great encouragement to people in the rest of Canada is that the various outright "separatist" groups in Quebec got a combined vote of only about 8% (a sort of lunatic fringe).

MAX FACTOR
STRONGHOLD FOR NAILS . . .
A FABULOUS INVENTION
Stronghold is a revolutionary liquid with thousands of microfibers that form a virtually invisible protective network on the nails that helps instantly to:
1. STRONGHOLD MENDS BROKEN NAILS
The fine network of fibers hold the break together . . . give the nails a chance to grow out . . . freeing women from the pain and discomfort . . . the disfigurement of uneven nails.
2. STRONGHOLD SUPPORTS FRAGILE NAILS
The network of fibers acts as a shield, protects against breaking and splitting.
3. STRONGHOLD ALLOWS NAILS TO GROW FASHIONABLY LONG
The flexible network cushions the nail tips, adds strength and resilience . . . helps to prevent those breaks that keep nails from growing long.
STRONGHOLD is completely safe, requires no warning, no shields for cuticles.

ELEVATOR ROW AT LOMOND, 1966

Lomond Growth Review

(The following sketch of Lomond history is taken from the Municipal Counsellor.)

The first organization in the Lomond area constituted the Local Improvement District 8-P-4 by Order in Council dated April 2nd, 1910, and consisted of Townships 15, 16 and 17 in Ranges 19 and 20, West of the Fourth Meridian.

The area was divided into six divisions and the first councillors elected were J. L. Pickett, Sweet Valley; G. A. Holden, Sweet Valley; L. C. Jackson, Brunetta; G. M. Witting, Sweet Valley (Chairman; R. M. Paul Kinnondale; J. M. Hola, Brunetta.

The secretary-treasurer was Herbert J. Dufty of Brunetta. The rate of assessment at this time was 1¼ cents per acre.

We have been unable to locate the names Brunetta, Kinnondale and Sweet Valley on a map. However, the Department of Education states these were names of school districts in the area formed during 1910 and 1911 and that there was a post office at Brunetta at that time. From the Department of Highways we learn that Kinnondale was located in the N.E.¼ of Section 16, Township 17, Range 18, West of the Fourth Meridian.

The area was formed into the Rural Municipality of Clifton with the following councillors being elected: Thos. Chapman (Reeve), Lomond; Irving Ellsworth (Deputy Reeve), Yetwood; Geo. T. Armstrong, Yetwood; Peter Nord, Travers; G. A. Reynolds, Travers.

This gives us only five councillors but our records do not supply the name of the sixth. Mr. Dufty was again Secretary-Treasurer. The Rural Municipality was disorganized and became Improvement District No. 127 on December 31, 1937.

Effective March 31, 1939, the Improvement District became part of the Bow West Special Area No. 4 where it remained until after the Co-terminous Boundary Commission when it was almost evenly divided between the County of Vulcan No. 2 and the Municipal District of Taber No. 14. Effective January 1, 1960 more of the area was transferred to the County leaving about a township and a half in the southeast corner of the original area in the Municipal District.

In regard to the Village of Lomond itself the petition for formation was signed on December 6, 1915, by Wm. H. Smith, Marshall Wilson, G. L. Farrel, G. W. Porter, Geo. Frounfelter, A. Wogsberg, A. Darker, A. Webster, F. Vickers, J. S. Paisley.

The first council elected consisted of John Henry Williamson (Reeve); James Burns Marshall and William Hazen.

Mr. Dufty was the Returning Officer, and Sidney A. Beckett was the first secretary-treasurer.

The village at that time consisted of 28 houses with 24 places of business.

BUSY TIMES. For Lomond Mayor and 50th Anniversary committee chairman, B. M. (Pete) Stokes and village secretary Mrs. Helen Chapman the past several months have been filled with preparations for the big event next weekend.

Lomond Power Grew From One Street Light

Street lighting at Lomond in 1918 was not a big proposition and the first light was installed in 1918. W. A. Teskey was hired by the village at $18 per year to light the one corner gas light (lamps and repairs were extra). In January 1920 he was engaged to supply electricity for three street lights at two dollars per month.

A Petter diesel light plant was installed by G. F. Burne in 1932 in a power house where Foreman's Lomond Meat Market stands. There were no Farm Electric Service crews around then so wires were strung to about 12 homes, the pool hall, Frost's Store, the bank and the hotel as well as for nine street lights. This permanent street lighting blacked out Mr. Teskey's job and may have been one of the early signs of the world of automation now approaching so quickly. Service to these hook-ups was till midnight.

In 1939 the power plant was moved to the building now housing Lay's Purity 99 Service and was operated by the partnership of George Burn and Martin Maronda. In 1941 Norman Erskine bought out Mr. Burne's equity and the plant moved to 24 hour service.

A new diesel was bought in 1946 and service was extended and in the early '50's the power business was sold to Duggan and Giles who then operated the utility until Calgary Power came into Lomond and district in 1955.

Most recent power advancement was installation of mercury vapor lights in 1965.

Don't forget the Lomond 50th anniversary parade, Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m. Judging at 11 a.m.

Home Town Card Specialist To Be On Hand

Unless family committments prevent his appearance, Nap LeBlanc, right, will be at Lomond's 50th Anniversary celebration July 8, 9 and 10, both as an entertainer and as a native son.

Nap is one of two boys and five girls of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Joe LeBlanc who came in 1908 from North Dakota to homestead in the Bow City district. The homesite was a stopping place for people hauling coal from Bow City to Vauxhall, Enchant, Travers and Retlaw. Overnight visitors were common as were the long talks of the then, old days. The senior LeBlancs moved from Bow City to Ponoka in 1935. Mr. LeBlanc passed away in 1945 but Mrs. LeBlanc is still in fair health at Calgary at 82 years of age.

On the entertainment side, Nap, who left the district at the age of 13, sells for the Transportation Insurance Company, which isn't necessarily entertaining but the succession of sleight of hand and card tricks that go with his sales pitch certainly are.

As a member of the International Brotherhood of Magicians Nap has developed this hobby to a high degree of perfection and if you enjoy watching objects disappear in front of your eyes or cards change their face while you stare at them, you'll enjoy Nap LeBlanc.

Lomond Lions Have Active 11-Year Career

To the late Earl Helland of Lomond goes much of the credit for the organizing in 1955 of the Lomond Lions Club.

Sponsored by the Vulcan Lions Club this service group quickly became one of the most important and integral parts of the district life and has given direction, money and hand labor to a great many projects large and small over its 11-year history.

Notable among its successes is the construction of the Lomond Community Centre which was thought of, dreamed about and acted upon by Lions members who made up the building committee.

Forty-one members attended the first charter night party on June 7, 1955 and today the membership stands at 46 with Ralph Chapman now completing his year as president.

Ladies' night and the father and son banquet have become annual affairs for the club and among other activities through the years are the following: Sports day held from 1955 until 1962; Christmas treats and free show for kiddies; harvester's ball, sponsorship of agricultural short courses; two years of swimming lessons for over 50 children at a cost of over $750; help at the Badger Lake community well; CNIB collections; work on sports grounds improvement and the shouldering of the operation costs of the Community Centre where recently two now furnaces were installed at a cost of over $1200.

Money for these many and varied projects come from sources such as world series baseball pools, a community sale in 1961, stock car racing, carnivals and cash bingos. 4-H groups, Cubs, Scouts and more improvements to the centre are but a few of the many other outlets found for money raised by the club.

Within the club itself members have been active in Lionism with Earl Helland serving as zone chairman for one year and also as deputy district governor for a year and Hirst Goldthrope who is presently serving as the zone chairman.

Jimmie Breckenridge, a member of the cast of "The Gypsy Rover," an operetta of Lomond's early days, is shown above. In the operetta was a cast of 45 with Doug Allred as director and Reg Frost as accompanist. Mrs. Ivy Allred and Jack Matheson took lead parts.

Congratulations . . .

To the Lomond Pioneers,
Oldtimers and Present Generation, On This Joyous Occasion

Lomond's 50th Anniversary

It has been our pleasure to have served many of the early pioneers and the younger generations of the Lomond district with their automobiles, trucks and related services since 1925.

We are pleased to take this opportunity to thank all our customers and good friends for their loyal patronage.

We are looking forward to observing this important milestone with the citizens of Lomond . . . your "Golden Anniversary," where good fellowship always excells.

Religious Guidance Was 'Sometimes Thing' With Roads and Rides As Early Barriers

In assembling material for use in the book "The History of Lomond and District" the committee found it necessary to omit some stories and photos, not because they lacked in interest or authenticity, but because of space problems. One such account is of Father J. Bidault, O.M.I., whose letter to the committee describing his life among district settlers, typifies the problems and blessings found by those who served with, and followed him. It is carried here in its entirety.

"I came to Canada in 1909, after having finished my studies in Belgium. I was born in France, but I had to leave it in 1903, exiled by the persecution of Combes, who banished from France all religious order. And as I wanted to join the order of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, it meant that I had to go to Belgium. After having been ordained there in 1908, I left for Alberta in the following year.

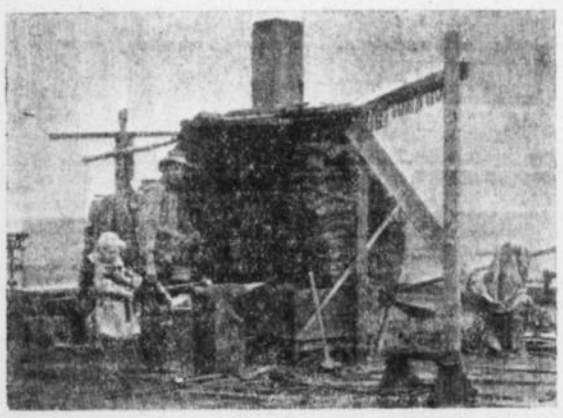
I crossed the ocean on a little liner of the Allan Line, which does not exist any more. From Montreal I came to Calgary on the C.P.R., landing in Calgary on the 14th of September, 1909. Calgary was already a nice little city, with 23,000 inhabitants. Two days later, I was in Edmonton, a city of the same size as Calgary. There I stayed three months, learning English, and in January, 1910, I arrived in Lethbridge where I stayed for 18 years. I landed in Lethbridge the day on which people of all nationalities were taking a homestead. One thousand people were in line on that day around the land office, filing their claim. It was really the day of the opening of agriculture in the southern part of the province, and it was among these people that I was to spend 18 years of my best life, helping them, encouraging them and building churches for them.

The Ibbestad Lutheran Church, about 15 miles south-east of Lomond is pictured above. This weather-beaten lonely sentinel of early days is visible on the horizon from the Booth farm and stands as a symbol of Christendom at a time when denominations were necessarily, of little consequence. Ministers of any faith were welcomed. The church is now in a sad state of dis-repair but it is hoped it can be preserved as a landmark.

I worked first of all on the line to Great Falls, as far as Shelby, Mont. Then in 1911, as far as I can remember, I made my first trip around your country. It was not easy. We had first of all to find the Catholic settlers. And then to choose a home where the people would come for Mass, thus establishing stations here and there. I had no other way of transportation but the good will of the people who would carry me with their horses and wagons from one farm house to the next. Often when I had no one to take me, I walked, with my suit case in which I had my chapel.

In 1910 and 1911, I generally came to Taber, where I held services in the little church. From there I went north, generally with the family of Thom Pine. The next day I held Mass at the farm of Bryan McAndrews. This station was called Barney, (now Retlaw). That was the name of the local post office. From there I went to Lost Lake (Enchant) and said Mass at the home of Tony Grote. From there I went to Sweet Valley (Travers) and said Mass at the place of G. Grenier. That is where I first met J. W. Murphy, whom we called Red Murphy. He had such an abundant crop of fire red hair. George Grenier and I soon became very good friends, and we could talk French together. It was still hard for me to carry a conversation in English. Mrs. Grenier was a very fine Irish woman. With them I was feeling perfectly at home.

From Sweet Valley, I went to a place called Wheat Center. Mr. Grenier took me there with his team. The people there could not receive me. They had no room, and then they were busy, and then they were sore at the priest, because, they said, they had sent a message to a priest to come to a dying man and he did not come, etc. I saw there was nothing to be done there where I was not welcome, so from there I went to Kinnondale, to a German family by the name of Koch. Then to Bow City where I had Mass at the home of Mr. Nap Larosee, a Frenchman with a very nice family. From there I had to return home to Lethbridge, and it was not easy. I tried to find a place with the mailman who would take me to Brooks or Cluny. So, you understand, under those conditions it was difficult for me to visit these places very often. I generally did it three or four times a year, just to let the people feel that they were not abandoned. Besides I had to go to Medicine Hat where there was no priest until the fall of 1910. So, I took the Spokane Flyer on Fridays, stayed in Medicine Hat on Saturdays and Sundays, then went from there to Maple Creek and Swift Current in Saskatchewan. They had no priest there either.



Alfred Lyons and daughter Helma, First Blacksmith Shop

I remember in particular my first visit to Swift Current. I had been called there by a good woman who wrote me saying: Please, come to Swift Current, for I have two "kids" to christen. My knowledge of English then did not go that far. So I took my dictionary and looked at the word "kid". So I went to my superior who knew a little more than I did, and he told me it was the slang word for child.

In 1911, they started the new railroad to Calgary from Lethbridge, and this made things easier for me. But in 1911, it did not go any further than Carmangay. That meant for me having a few more places for Mass: Barons and Carmangay. And the train was so slow. One day I received word that a good woman was dying in Carmangay. I took the train the next morning at 8:00 a.m. and arrived at Carmangay at 4:00 p.m. to hear that the woman, Mrs. Robinson, had died at noon.

The next year, the road went as far as Vulcan. So I had Mass in Champion and Vulcan. From there I proceeded across the Snake Valley (I believe it is now Lake McGregor) to Sweet Valley.

In 1913, I brought my first car, a Ford Model T. Then I was able to go a little more often. To my list of places I added two more: A. Hempel and J. Connor. These people were located somewhere on the Little Bow River.

It was in Sweet Valley that I froze my radiator for the first time. That was on March 20, 1913. It was 20 below zero. And I had no experience in the care of a car. So in the morning when I wanted to start, I had to fill the radiator with boiling water and jack up the rear wheel, and then crank, and crank again until I was all blue in the face. Later I found out that it was easier to hitch a team to it. But I had to learn the hard way. And maybe it was better that way.

Around 1914 the railroad came to Retlaw. It was the beginning of a new era and villages started to spring up overnight like mushrooms, Retlaw, Enchant, Travers and Lomond. The road did not go any further in my time.

I was at Mr. Grenier's when they built the grade around Travers, and we were looking at the wagons from his front door, and the old man was very glad.

In 1917 I built the church in Retlaw, and there was at that time a large congregation.

A little later we learned in Travers that Red Murphy was getting married. That was quite an event. I met Mrs. Murphy in their home a few weeks after they came back to Travers. Things started to take shape in the home then. It was no longer the old shack. We had a long talk in French.

At any rate, about that time I had to leave that part of the country, to take charge of the Germans on the new line of Foremost and Manyberries. There was a priest in Taber who took charge of Retlaw and another one in Vulcan who looked after Travers and Lomond.

I have never been there since and I suppose I would not recognize the country if I saw it today. At any rate most of the people that I attended to must be gone by this time.

As for me, I left the south in 1927. I spent 14 years in St. Albert, two years in the Peace River, four years in Lac la Biche, one year in St. Paul and seven years in Saskatchewan. My parish is a nice little parish of 100 familes, 80 French and the rest English speaking. I have a very nice church that I built in 1950 and I say two Masses every Sunday. I have a convent with four sisters who teach school to 150 children.

REPORT FROM LEGISLATURE

by RAY SPEAKER, M.L.A.

HOME OWNER GRANT FORMS

Many constituents have asked how the Home-Owner Forms for the $50.00 tax discount would be available.

On contacting Mr. Morrison, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, he indicated the forms arrived in Edmonton on Monday, June 26. They will be distributed to the Secretary-Treasurer of the towns this week. These forms are printed on a special type of paper to be used in our data processing machines.

Persons eligible for the grant must be part or full owner of an eligible residence. Eligible residence means building or part thereof occupied in whole or in part as the normal place of residence of an owner.

Owner means:

1— A person registered under the Land Titles Act, as the owner.

2— A person who is purchasing or has purchased, or is otherwise acquiring or has acquired ownership.

3— A person who is an occupier under a lease, a license or permit of Crown land that has a building thereon.

Further conditions of eligibility for the tax discount requires that the owner of an eligible residence must, in respect of the property described in the application, be liable for the payment of municipal taxes which be paid in full less the applicable home owners tax discount for the year to which the application applies.

Therefore I would advise that those eligible for the tax discount contact their respective Secretary-Treasurer for the proper forms.

CENTENNIAL INFORMATION

This Wednesday I will be attending an information seminar for persons who will act as Centennial speakers. The one-day seminar will bring us up to date on Federal, Provincial and Municipal Centennial Celebration Projects.

If any organizations wish myself or other speakers to speak to them on the Centennial projects, they can contact myself or J. D. Findlay, Centennial Coordinator, Legislative Building, Edmonton.

REDLANDVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. Mart Jose were pleasantly surprised last week when their niece, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wrobbeski and grand daughter from Justice, Man. came to visit them for a few days on their return trip home from Vancouver, B.C. Mrs. Jose's niece was just a little girl when she last saw her 38 years ago.

Mrs. Lena Jacobsen and Clara visited relatives in Grassy Lake last week. Mrs. Jacobsen's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hill of Los Angeles, were also visiting there.

Weekend visitors at the Albert Markert home were daughter Shirley of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graham of Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fulton and Lynell were Edmonton visitors Sunday and Monday.

Vulcan Unit Emergency Measures Organization

Every hospital in Canada would have specific action to take in a national disaster. Their responsibilities are described in the Emergency Health Services manual "Hospital Disaster Planning — 1964." Every community is constantly exposed to peacetime disaster and should have its plans ready. A chapter in the manual recommends a number of steps to be taken within a community to achieve this end. Much of this work falls upon the physician.

CARDS OF THANKS

To the wonderful friends who organized and attended our farewell picnic, we would like to say a sincere and heartfelt 'Thank you.' The beautiful gifts you gave us will always remind us of fine friends, good times and Champion. Thank you to the Lions Club, the Canadian Legion and the United Church for the gifts and the thoughtful words with which they were presented. We will be happy to have you visit us at our new home at 3927 Vancouver Crescent, Calgary.

—Les and Kaye Christensen and family. 47-1p

My grateful thanks to my immediate relatives and friends, doctors and nurses at the Calgary General Hospital for the many acts of kindness during my three week stay there. Your thoughtfulness in sending cards, flowers and helping my family was greatly appreciated. Thank you all sincerely.

—Shirley Griffin. 47-1x

To the ladies of the Champion United Church who held a lovely tea in the church parlors on Thursday, June 23, in our honor, as we retire from service as organist and choir director, we extend our grateful thanks and appreciation. Thanks too, to the girls who sang, for the lovely gifts, and to all those who attended and helped to make the afternoon so pleasant.

—Very sincerely, Vinnie Carlson and Kaye Christensen. 47-1p

The Champion Boy Scouts are sincerely grateful to the citizens of Champion for their most generous contributions to our auction sale held in the Champion rink. A special thank you to the auctioneers and to everyone who patronized the sale. 47-1x

We would like to send a thank-you message to all the buyers who attended the Annual Calf Show and Sale. Another thank-you goes out to Tom Ruggles and Gerry Going who were the auctioneers for the day. We all think they did a wonderful job. I would like to send a special thanks to Jim Foreman of the Lomond Meat Market who purchased four calves.

—Lomond 4-H Club. 47-1x

I wish to thank my sponsors, the Lake McGegor Race Meet Association, Mrs. Armstrong and all who supported and helped me during the Race Meet Queen Contest. Congratulations to Christine Red Gun.

—Coreta Ensign, Milo. 47-1x

IN MEMORIAM

FOSTER, Howard Joseph— In loving memory of a dear son and brother who passed away on July 1st, 1965.
We do not need a special day,
To bring you to our minds;
The days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proven
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to take it,
And courage to bear the blow;
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
To know we never said goodbye,
Will always bring regret,
But the hearts that love you dearly
Are the ones that won't forget.
—Sadly missed by his father, brothers and sisters. 47-1x

FOSTER— In loving memory of my son-in-law Howard who passed away July 1st, 1965.
You suffered with courage,
We knew not your pain,
You fought to get well,
But all was in vain.
The Lord called you home
To His Garden of Rest.
It is true what they say,
He takes only the best.
—Always remembered by his father-in-law Leo Spanke. 47-1x

FOSTER— In loving memory of our dear father Howard Foster who passed away July 1, 1965.
We lost a father with a heart of gold,
Who was more to us than wealth untold,
Without farewell he fell asleep,
Leaving cherished memories for us to keep.
We have lost but God has gained
The best father the world contained.
To those who have a father,
Cherish him with care,
You'll never know the heartache,
'Till you see his empty chair.
—Lovingly remembered by David, Marilyn and Joe and family and Beryl and Ronnie and family. 1-x

FOSTER— In loving memory of my dear husband Howard who passed away July 1, 1965.
God saw he was getting weary,
He did what he thought best,
He put His arm around him,
And whispered "come to rest."
The Golden Gate stood open,
One year ago today.
With goodbyes left unspoken
He gently slipped away.
—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by his wife Gerry. 47-1x

RICHES— In loving memory of a dear husband and father who passed away July 3, 1962.
We will always think of our happy years,
We always feel that you are near.
—Always remembered and loved by his wife Rose and family. 47-1p

VERSLUYS— In loving memory of mother who passed away on June 30, 1964.
We do not need a special day to bring you to our mind,
The day we do not think of you is very hard to find.
They say time heals all sorry and helps us to forget,
But time so far has only shown how much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to take it, and courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you no one will ever know.
It was God's will to take you,
He knew you needed rest.
His Garden must be wonderful,
He always takes the best.
—Ever remembered by Donnie, Laqueeda, Francis, Dale and families. 47-1x

LOMOND

Best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Mrs. Joe Chambers who is a patient in the Vulcan Hospital.

Mrs. Florence Hart was a shopping visitor in Lethbridge on Friday of last week. She also received a medical checkup.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Elliott were visitors in Lethbridge on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark of Lethbridge were visitors in Lomond last weekend. Saturday evening they attended the open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. Vern Williams on their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The men of the community were at work on Monday trying to clean up and repair damage at the local cemetery before the Anniversary celebration.

Len Chase was a business visitor in Calgary on Monday of this week.

Those attending the Charter Night for the new Lions Club at Blackie last Friday evening were as follows: Zone Chairman Lion Hirst Goldthorpe and wife Ivy, Lion Ralph Chapman and wife May, Smoky Jones and wife Leona, Lion Leonard Huff and wife Vi, Lion Oliver Hart and wife Doreen, Lion Doug Walker and wife Pauline, Lion Floyd Sande and wife Edie, and Lion Len Chase and wife Jean.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Dale Deitrich who is a patient in hospital.

Terry Chase is visiting at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson and family of Berrywater.

The Lomond Senior Baseball Team played Enchant at Lomond on Sunday afternoon, June 26. It was the first game of the season to be played here. Others had been scheduled but were rained out. Lomond defeated the Enchant Team by a score of 12-1.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

The Lomond Lions' wives were guests at the club supper meeting on Tuesday evening, June 21 for the installation of officers.

This meeting is an annual affair for the ladies, however it was a rare treat this year, with the ladies having no cooking whatever to do. The men proudly displayed their culinary arts by cooking pancakes, sausages and eggs, and coffee and serving them hot off the griddle as folks came in.

Zone Chairman Lion Hirst Goldthorpe installed the officers for the 1966-67 term and afterwards gave a very interesting report on the Annual Lions Convention they attended at Helena, Mont.

ANNIVERSARY COMMUNITY WORSHIP SERVICE

Final plans have been made for the 50th Anniversary Community Worship Service to be held Sunday, July 10 at 11 a.m. in the Lomond Community Centre.

The five local churches taking part will be Anglican, Evangelical Free, Lutheran, Roman Catholic and the United Church. The Sermon will be given by an old time resident of the community, the Reverend Carl J. Fosmark. The theme of his message will be "Things To Remember."

A community choir under the direction of Pastor and Mrs. Berg will sing two anthems. An offering will be taken, proceeds to go to the Canadian Bible Society.

After the service there will be a social hour in the dining room of the community centre to which everyone is cordially invited. The lunch will be supplied by the ladies of the participating churches.

This hour of worship and fellowship you will be sure to remember. A rich spiritual blessing awaits you there.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

The Travers ladies, members of the Good Will Service Club and the Lomond Community Club, and friends, gathered at the Lomond Community Centre on Monday evening, June 13 to honor Miss Linda Brady, bride-elect, with a miscellaneous shower.

Mrs. Margaret Ost presented an amusing ice breaker contest to start the evening. This was followed by bingo and other entertaining contests.

A nice array of gaily wrapped gifts were presented to the bride-elect by Mrs. Donnie Humphreys on behalf of everyone present, along with their best wishes for a happy married life. Afterwards Linda very fittingly expressed her thanks. She was assisted in unwrapping the many lovely and useful gifts by her mother. Mrs. Brady, the mother of the groom Mrs. Juan Cortez, Miss Elaine Gerhan and Mrs. Don Humphreys.

A lovely lunch was served to conclude a pleasant evening.

BIRTHDAY CLUB

The June meeting of the Birthday Club was held June 8 at the home of Mrs. R. J. Honess and opened by singing, "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountains." Fourteen members answered roll call, some correctly guessing who their Sunshine Friends had been for the past year. There were three visitors present.

The Jubilee Celebrations were discussed and final plans set for the dance the club has been asked to sponsor on Friday, July 8. The lunch committee and helpers for the aforementioned dance will meet at Mrs. Molly Berger's home on the afternoon of the dance to make sandwiches. Every member is to bring a fairly large cake.

A card of thanks was received from Nancy and Don Humphries. The club books will be audited by Mrs. Elmer Hamm and Mrs. Joe Chambers.

The election of officers for the coming year took place with the following results: President, Esther Zuba; vice-president, Earline Lindstedt; secretary-treasurer, Amelia Maier. Gift committee, shower committee, sick committee and a news correspondent were also selected.

Most of the members re-joined the club and one of the visitors (Mrs. Edith Neilsen) joined. New Sunshine Friends were drawn for and the next meeting will be at Miss Doris Carrington's home on Thursday, July 21, instead of the regular day. Nickel draw was won by Carolyn Megella and a lovely lunch closed a pleasant afternoon meeting.

WEED ESSAY CONTEST

With the growing conditions we've had this year it should be easy to get a number of inspirations when writing about weeds. As you probably remember there is an annual weed essay contest sponsored by the County of Vulcan No. 2 and the NCWCC. This contest is open to any boy or girl, living in Alberta who is 12 years of age and will not be over 18 years of age on December 1, 1966 where family are farming.

The County of Vulcan No. 2 has a prize of $25 for first, $15 for second, and $10 for third. Now if your essay is the best in the Province of Alberta you will win $25 as an additional prize. And if you have the best essay of any entered you will win a $300 scholarship.

Sounds good, you bet, start thinking now and making notes on what you're going to write. The contest closes October 1, 1966. By the way NCWCC stands for North Central Weed Control Conference!

ARE FOOD PRICES REALLY HIGH!

That was the title of a short insert in the June 9, Facts, Figures and Comments of the Meat Packers Council. The average increase on items in the cost-of-living index in the U.S. is 35%. Food moved up 28%, rent increased 50% and medical care jumped 77%. For example since 1950 the price of meat has increased some 20%. At the same time the average weekly earnings have advanced a bit over 80%. While the Meat Packers Council doesn't actually say food prices are low comparatively you can draw your own conclusion. It appears to be just another facet of the old cost price squeeze to the farmer.

FIREBLIGHT CONTROL

Fireblight has caused a considerable amount of damage to apple and crabapple trees this year, according to reports received by P. D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture with the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

The only way to control this disease at this time is to cut off infected twigs and branches about six inches below the infected wood and burn them. Fireblight is very infectious and will spread to all trees in the area unless diseased branches are removed and destroyed at once.

Fireblight is spread by insects, rain, wind, and pruning shears. Earlier in the season it causes the blossoms of infected trees to turn brown. Later the twigs and leaves surrounding the blossoms look as if they have been scorched by fire. As the season advances, the bacteria tend to work downward into the larger branches killing patches of bark as they go. The cankers which form on the patches are discoloured, slightly sunken, and inclined to crack at the edges. Bacteria often overwinter in these cankers.

Mr. McCalla says badly infected trees should be removed and destroyed, but those which are only slightly diseased can be kept alive and productive for years if prompt control measures are taken.

"The Alberta Horticultural Guide" contains instructions on fall and spring fireblight control measures and a list of non-susceptible tree varieties. It can be obtained from District Agriculturists and the Extension Service of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

VULCAN WEST

Evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Whitehead and family on Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dennison and Miss Deirdre Dennison, Guy Dow and Robert Dow and Mr. and Mrs. Sam White.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale Atkinson and family were fishing at the Kananaskis over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Whitehead and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Whitehead and family of High River motored to Carstairs Sunday where they were guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Bill DeMare.

Visitors at the Harry Smith home Tuesday of last week were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ashmore from Wetaskiwin. They also visited with Mrs. Gerry Foster and Leo Spanke at the Smith home.

Leo Spanke and his daughter, Mrs. Gerry Foster attended Sheila Wambeke and Larry Windle's wedding in High River last Saturday, June 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Foster and girls accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Pete Manchur and daughter, all of Calgary, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Gerry Foster.

MOSSLEIGH

Mrs. Eva Elliott and Yvonne have returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Garry Grossman (nee Donna Elliott) of Prince George, British Columbia.

A double-header baseball game was played at Strathmore last Sunday. First game score, 7 to 3 in favor of Mossleigh. Second game score, 4 to 3 in favor of Strathmore. On Sunday, July 3 Carseland plays Mossleigh at Wyndham Park.

Mrs. Beulah Gateman was a guest at the wedding of Miss Shirley Wambeke June 25 at High River.

The Little League played two games last week resulting as follows: Mossleigh at Arrowwood, 11 to 7 in favor of Mossleigh; Mossleigh at Gleichen, 9 to 3 in favor of Mossleigh.

The Babe Ruth team played at Champion resently. Score: 14 to 5 in favor of Champion.

People who knew Beverly Richardson when she went to school at Mossleigh might be interested to know there is an open bridal shower the evening of July 6 at the memorial centre, High River.

There will be no mail service to Mossleigh on July 1, 1966. The Post Office will be closed all day.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lausen and family of Calgary and Mrs. Esther Lausen of Strathmore were Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Ken Beacome's home.

FREEDOM OF CHOICE IS YOUR PRIVILEGE

In this wonderful country of ours all of us are guaranteed many rights and privileges not enjoyed everywhere. We can worship whom we please, speak our minds without fear and our property cannot be seized without due process of law. When we are sick, we can select the particular physician we prefer. We are not regimented or owned by the state.

Another one of your many freedoms is the right to choose the particular pharmacy you want to fill your prescriptions. When a physician prescribes a medicine he can either phone the particular pharmacy you wish or you can bring the prescription to that pharmacy yourself. May we be your personal pharmacy?

Company's Coming For Lomond District Celebration

WELCOME

On behalf of the Council of the Village of Lomond and members of the 50th Anniversary Committee it is my pleasure to welcome district pioneers, former residents and those of the present generation, back to the Golden Jubilee reunion July 8, 9 and 10.

Months of preparation have gone into this event and the organizers have done everything in their power to provide the setting for an enjoyable meeting of old friends and neighbors.

We hope your stay among familiar surroundings will be pleasant and memorable.

B. M. (Pete) Stokes,
Mayor, Village of Lomond.

As Lomond pioneer Jens Jensen related at Sam Schlaht's barber shop and pool hall last week, "In 1910 there were a few shacks here which belonged to bachelors who worked the "ditch" in summer and lasted the winter playing cards and eating salt pork, soda biscuits and beans."

Now, 50 years after incorporation as a village in 1916, a respectable sized community of Lomond and its surrounding districts are putting on their "Sunday best" and will celebrate their Golden Jubilee, July 8, 9 and 10.

Revolving around the much-prized Lomond Community Centre, the three-day program, which appears in detail on the welcoming advertisement on this page, is designed to suit the tastes of everyone with ball games, barbecue, professional wrestling exhibition, dancing, big parade, band concert and plenty of time for quiet visiting. Over 200 oldtimers have indicated by letter that they'll be on hand and many more are expected to just drop in.

Accommodation is not a strong resource at Lomond but a committee will be on hand at the centre for anyone requiring this type of help.

A complete 20 x 24 foot stage has been erected at the centre, and new public address system has been added as have 100 seats and the land has been cleared beside the building for the outdoor events.

For children who may not be interested in the oldtimers dance Saturday night it is likely a show will be held in the arena.

Village merchants have co-operated in the celebration by decorating the streets and their windows hold oldtime displays and they have helped support coverage of this event through The Advocate and CJOC. Farm support has also been liberal.

A book on the history of the district which has taken over a year's research and editing by a committee headed by Mrs. Booth is due to be released for the anniversary. These 1,000 copies represent perhaps the most important and lasting contribution to the occasion.

This Advocate supplement, necessarily touches only on a few facets of life in this district through the years with material revised from Mrs. Booth's collection and full details of many more sides of the country's history are found in the 375-page book.

LOMOND, 1918. Typical of prairie towns, the main businesses of Lomond faced the CPR tracks and cars and horses still competed for the main street in the photo above. Some business places shown are Elliott, Argue & Co., Lomond Meat Market, G. D. Salter, General Dry Goods, Lomond Realty Co., L. H. Phillips Hardware and Jang How's Restaurant.

First Tax Levy 1¼c Per Acre; 1966 County Budget $2,511,097

To many Lomond and district pioneers and oldtimers the names Brunetta, Yetwood, Kinnondale, Sweet Valley, First Chance, Midway and Burdock will strike a familiar note on the lines of education. These were the first established school districts along with Badger Lake, Plateau and Grain Ridge.

Many of the later developments in roads, irrigation, etc., are the results of earlier meetings and petitions that came from these pioneer organizations.

In the early 1900's the further settlement of the district meant some order had to be brought to the irregular patterns of trails across the country and so the Local Improvement Districts came into being. At first, older districts held back joining because of the 50 settlers per township clause but this was later eased and speeded up the movement.

First Local Improvement in the Lomond area was Local Improvement District 8-P-4, Order in Council, dated April 2, 1910 consisting of townships 15, 16, 17, in Ranges 19 and 20, west of the 4th meridian.

The area was divided into six divisions and among first councillors elected were J. S. Rickett, G. A. Holden, L. C. Jackson, G. M. Witting, R. M. Paul and J. M. Holo. Secretary-treasurer was Bert J. Dufty of Brunetta. In 1914 this same organized area became the Rural Municipality fo Clifton, whose councillors were Thomas Chapman, Irving Ellsworth, Peter Nord and G. A. Reynolds.

With settlement of the country these municipal governments were given power to assess property and set mill rates to meet responsibility of building roads, bridge and culverts and providing health and welfare. Rate of assessment at that time was 1¼ cents per acre. Doctor Walkey was brought in to see to the latter responsibilities and in succeeding years Dr. Swineburne, Dr. McPherson and Dr. Steele all gave service under a guaranteed salary basis until 1937.

Good crop years from 1925 to 1929 brought extensive use of cars and the need for better roads and heavy equipment to build and maintain them.

The hail storm of 1929 ushered in drier conditions and what became the great depression of the '30's when taxes were impossible to collect in amounts large enough to carry the services required. Machinery was turned back to companes and a new problem arose, fighting the billions of grasshoppers which descended upon the country. The Municipality of Clifton disintegrated and for years a Special Areas framework with widely spread control, provided management of a kind. Out of this and with help of such men as Clarence (Happy) Booth and Tom Teasdale came the formation of the Community Lease.

In 1937, when conditions showed improvement large school units came into being but this necessitated roads which were almost non-existent. To meet this situation the district was divided into sub-divisions and road committees were set up. Some farmers who served in this capacity were M. Bolduc, C. Steeves, Earl Helland, Frank Koch, Sid Carrington, S. Henrickson, J. Steeves, A. Clark, Alvin Koch, Cliff Prouty, Jim Mapstone and Andy McAlister.

With the post-war prosperity came the new Consolidated School to Lomond however more gravelled roads and service were asked for by residents than the

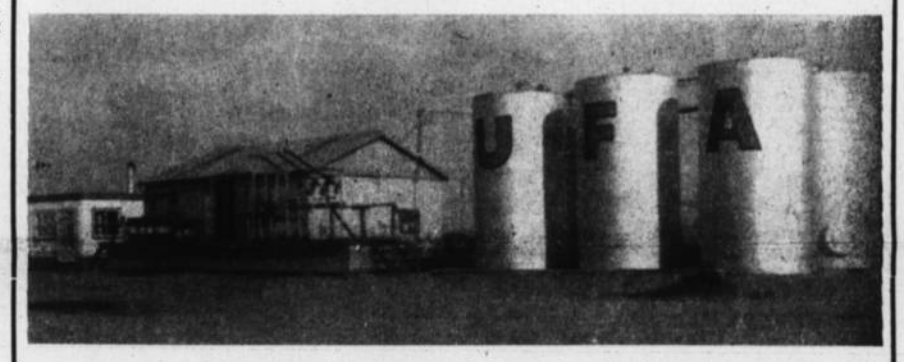
THE BIG PARADE. Route for Saturday's parade at Lomond is outlined above. Decision of the committee is to have the parade go twice around the main downtown block for the benefit of viewers. Judging is from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at the ball diamond and the parade moves off at 1 p.m.

Our Thanks . . .



We salute the pioneers of Lomond and district whose courage, initiative and drive gave rise to the development of this area as a solid agricultural economy.

Also we gratefully acknowledge those of the present generation whose dedication to their community and district has brought peace, contentment and plenty as a measure of everyday life.

Book Is Year-Long Project

One of the most important and lasting features of the Lomond and District 50th Anniversary Celebration next weekend, aside from the wonderful opportunity of family and community reunion, is the publishing of a book on the history of Lomond and district.

That certain ability needed for book work such as this was found in Mrs. Booth who taught school at Lomond for 10 years until the early '60's and has a deep interest and knowledge of early history of the district. Front page design and other art work was done by Billie Sealock.

The book is being printed at Lethbridge, will be six inches by nine inches in size and runs to 375 pages. One thousand are being printed however a definite price per copy has not been decided upon but will be set for the publication date which has been promised for next weekend.

HAPPY 50th BIRTHDAY

LOMOND AND DISTRICT

JULY 8, 9, 10

As a native of the Lomond district and lifelong resident here, I am pleased to join in the commemoration of this historic local event. The business and social friendships formed over the past years are treasured and I look forward to renewing many more acquaintances during the coming celebration.

tax structure would stand so a petition was asked to have this area, Bow West, become part of the County of Vulcan. This became so in 1950. The boundaries problem was a continuing one and in 1954 Bow West was divided between the Taber Municipality and County of Vulcan.

On Jan. 4, 1954, all that portion of the Bow West Special Area, No. 4 lying north of the township 15 line from Lake McGregor to the Bow River, and adjoining the old county line to the north, became Division 6 of the County of Vulcan.

Andy McAlister defeated Albert West in the election for candidate for county councillor and has served for 12 years in this capacity.

At Armada 40 to 50 students were carried by two vans and at Lomond there were three classrooms and an emergency classroom set up in a hallway and four teachers on staff. The growth of school population had outstripped available facilities and by 1956 an addition to the Lomond school was completed. However by 1958 high school students were being vanned from Armada and the Lomond school was again over-crowded.

In that year the school was further enlarged and more teachers were added and the full high school curriculum including grade 12 and matriculation level, was possible for the first time.

Boundaries still remained a problem, particularly to the south and west of Lomond with students close to Lomond having to go several miles over to Travers in the Taber Municipality. After local pressure and the help of the late Hon. Peter Dawson, the whole area west of range line 20 was added to the County of Vulcan. This boundary again cut through an attendance area near Travers and finally this district was taken into the county. Meanwhile the post office and store at Armada were closed and residents voted to send all their children to Lomond.

A final addition to the school was completed in 1960 which then included 13 regular classrooms, gymnasium and accommodation for a library, shop, home economics and shop. Seven vans handle a total present day enrolment of 246 students and an improved network of gravelled roads has brought centralized schooling to the high level hoped for by its proponents.

Lomond Business Reached Peak In '20's When Full Line Of Stores Gave Service

As would be found the case in practically every prairie community, one of the first businesses and one famed for its longevity, was the Chinese restaurant. So it was with Lomond and Jang How was the local proprietor. A general store was opened by a Marshal and Wilson partnership and so the business world grew.

It may be surprising to some but there was a day, to be relived at the anniversary next weekend, that Lomond had lumber yards, two banks, two hardware stores, a drug store, ladies' ready-to-wear, real estate office, three garages and an ice cream parlor run by the Paul sisters, and all did a good business.

Early businesses included Salter's General Dry Goods, Brown's Clothing, Mr. Beckett's photography studio, the Gregg's ice cream parlor and green grocery, Jones' Tailor Shop, Craik's harness shop and a shoe and harness repar shop operated for a few years by Mike Driscoll. First druggist was R. R. Saunders followed by Mr. Hughes who also ran a lending library in conjunction. The first meat market was opened by Mr. Frownfelter and son George and later sold to H. F. Burne. A second butcher shop was established by Dick Neil called the 4-X Meat Market in the building which later became the post office. "The Pioneer," a grocery store was run by Abe Parker, teacher and homesteader who also ran the post office after the first postman Mr. Wilson, gave it up. There was even a place for the swap trade in those years with a second hand store operated by "Pop" Crum.

Many will recall the Ford Touring car with the flapping side curtains which used to haul the Rawley dealer Bobby Cant on his rounds. Other later Rawleigh men were Ben Amundsen, George Wighton and Irvin Thornton.

An important service, now extinct, was the livery business which flourished with three outfits giving stall room to horses. Len Farrell and George Porter operated one which was later converted for use as a community centre and which now is the home of the Free Evangelical Church. Others were run by George Hedges, Andy Wogsberg and the Paisley brothers whose building burned down in a fire in 1929. Later, Jim Reynolds and Charlie Adams also operated a livery barn.

Blacksmithing was a necessary service and Mr. Doane, Nick Holden, W. H. Smith and W. B. Manning all were connected with this trade.

Stacey Lumber Company was the first such business at Lomond and provided a relief to settlers who had been trecking to Vulcan, Champion or Brooks for their needs. Manager W. J. Clements supplied lumber for everything from horse troughs to caskets and he remained in Lomond until the yard was taken over by Beaver Lumber Company. The UFA Co-op had a yard which was eventually closed and later Revelstoke Lumber Co. opened their yard which operated until it closed in 1963. Among managers here were Earl Armstrong, Jack DeClaire, Ernie Linley and Richard Hammer and Jack Sukeroff.

Dray service was provided by a long list of men and in recent years a trucking business in the district, ran by first Denver Hart, brother Oliver and now by Bill Tolley has been handling much of the community's needs.

Another institution which almost followed the pioneers to town was the pool hall and Lomond's first operators and barbers were Orbie Baker with barber Tony Kunkel, Oscar Gustafson and Shorty Leaming, Orie Donily, Ed Haley, W. J. Asselstine, Miles Hurl, Montie Findlay, Harrison Caufield, Phil Chapman, Ben Souveny and Sam Schlaht who is the genial owner now. Overheard lights on three tables, bright, neat premises and a TV set which are now routine, would throw the early pioneer right off his game.

Early real estate agents were Mr. Tibbets, Cox and LaFontaine and Herb Elves, and P. L. Frost. Present insurance men are R. Chapman, K. Pedersen, J. Gray and M. Liebrich.

A long list of restauranteurs will be carried in the book on Lomond district history to be introduced next week.

Joe Wong operates Lomond's only restaurant now.

Frost's Red & White now provides subsidiary banking for the Vulcan Treasury Bank but in Lomond's growing days D. C. Towers was manager of the Bank of Hamilton and his competition was the Standard Bank, later the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Carlyle Thompson was last manager of the Commerce branch and other bankers were Swain, St. John, Temple, Watson and Goldby. In those years the only negro resident ever at Lomond, Frank Palmer, was a friend to all as he went about his role as caretaker for the bank.

The Lomond Commercial Hotel came into existence in 1915 in a building, dismantled and hauled from Chin, Alta. The building's ownership began for a year with Mr. Lust, and then followed Harry and Nellie Asselstine who operated it for five years then to Ed Haley who in turn sold to Steve Koch and on to E. R. Frank Bertiotti and later to Guido Zambaldi. Guido's brother, John is now owner and operator.

The original general store of Marshall and Wilson went through many hands before the final owner Sam Croissant, who ran it until 1951 when it was destroyed by fire.

In 1950 Earl Armstrong built a general store adjacent to his garage and following his death in 1956 Alberta Armstrong continued with the business later selling to Art and Florence Humphreys, who finally closed shop in 1963.

One of Lomond's oldest businesses, Frost's, was started as a small meat market in 1921 by E. W. Frost who gradually enlarged into meats and groceries and later became known as Frost's Red & White Store. Ownership later passed to son Reg. and since his death his wife Mary has operated the store.

Jim Foreman has been another food supplier of the district since 1957 when he started with the meat market and has more recently branched into groceries as well.

Lomond's first hardware store was run by L. A. Ostrum who later sold to Phillips and Munro. There was also Patten's Hardware, later sold to F. A. Kennedy and another owned by George Hedges. In 1924 C. R. Lawson had a hardware in the former Hughes drugstore building and stayed 'till his retirement at which time he sold to the Thorkelsens. E. G. Rainey bought the business in 1949, was completely burned out in a block-long fire in 1951, rebuilt and with his wife Ardella, still manage their new modern hardware.

John Zambaldi, Prop. Lomond

Com. Centre Appraisal $195,000

A great deal of foresight, years-ahead thinking and community and district involvement went into a project which in the spring of 1963 became the Lomond Community Centre.

As a Calgary entertainment promoter told Jim Lay who was seeking a program for the coming anniversary celebration, "There isn't a place between Calgary and Lethbridge with the combined facilities you have here." Certainly there is one town nearby which is sweating blood now because it missed the boat and has no comparable structure.

From a Lions Club meeting in October 1955 came the drive for the project and as off-site grain storage and its accompanying revenue possibilities were being sought by elevator companies, the time was right for action. Seven Lions, Fred Walker, the late Earl Armstrong, Bill Brown, Leonard Huff, Floyd Sande, Fred Maronda and Earl Helland were named to a building committee which spearheaded construction of an arch rib structure 113'x208' and entered into an agreement with Alberta Wheat Pool for off-site storage.

Support to the encouraging amounts of $18,580 and a $14,000 bank loan made actual construction possible and this took piace in the bitter winter of 1955-56, at a cost of $34,000 for the first stage of construction. In the spring of 1956 Earl Armstrong took a contract to fill the building with 184,000 bushels of wheat at 6 cents per bushel per year. Earl died while engaged in this project and now, residents looking back on the building and its problems, feel he was the moving force behind its coming into being and the regret of the whole community and district is that he was not to see its completion and the use to which he and others had envisioned it.

Storage of wheat for five years netted $55,789.88. Total loans of $34,298.65 were paid off with a profit left of $21,491.23 to be used for further development.

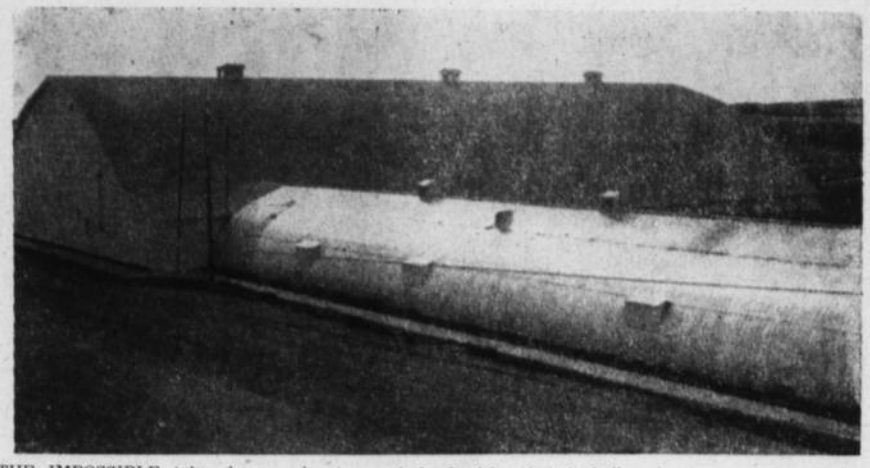
A planning committee of Lions Fred Maronda, Floyd Sande, Earl Helland, Bill Brown, Doug Walker, Floyd Howg and Oliver Hart was elected to put the wishes of the community regarding interior of the Centre into being. The plan was to have a skating rink, curling rink and dance hall with banquet, dining room and kitchen facilities. The involvement of the village gave the project benefit of winter works financial help and construction began in January 1962 with the late Al Clifford as foreman. Work was suspended in the spring and resumed next fall. The curling rink was moved from its former location and attached to the main Centre and equipped with artificial ice plant. Skating and curling rinks were in operation in December of 1962 while the dance hall, dining room, kitchen and washrooms were completed in the spring of 1963.

Elected in 1963 to a board to run the Centre were Melvin Magnuson, M. E. Jones, Hirst Goldthorpe, Doug Walker, Russell Honess, Bill Brown, Merle Sande, and Earl Helland with May Chapman as secretary.

Operating expenses of the Centre have been from $500 to $600 per month and the building was recently appraised at a value of $195,000.

Today life at Lomond is greatly focussed on the Centre and in winter it becomes a second home to most. A $1260 public address system was recently installed and a further hundred chairs have just been purchased.

There are those who feel it was a terrible mistake for a village of 244 and a sparsely populated district to jump into such a project but there are more who feel the co-operation and if necessary, enforced unification of everyone which must be essential to keep the doors open could be a factor in the salvation of the community and district.



THE IMPOSSIBLE takes longer. Outsiders consider the Lomond Community Centre an almost fantastic accomplishment from a village ot 244 inhabitants and a sparsely populated district. For those involved, it took years of planning and fund-raising but it all culminated in a finished product in 1963 including curling rink, skating rink, banquet and kitchen facilities and a community hall under one roof. It will form the hub around which the three-day anniversary program will revolve next weekend. The curling rink is in foreground, above.

Now Back To Quiet Farm Production, Armada Was Once Bustling Community

In the history of Lomond, Travers, Armada and other points in the district to be published in conjunction with anniversary celebrations next weekend several impressions of life in the past at Armada are recorded by settlers of the area.

As Mrs. Mamie Dawson, now of the Vulcan Peter Dawson Lodge writes, "It makes my heart ache to go back to Armada and see how little is left of what used to be." Armada enjoyed a brief period of material growth along with other such communities and then followed the course which the economic life of the country patterned and today is pretty well an elevator point midst thousands of acres of farmland.

According to a diary kept by Stewart Galbraith, Bert Saunders canvassed for signers to start a post office in 1910, and in 1913 the CPR bought land from Mr. Thiesmeyer and business places sprang up. In 1914 the first Board of Trade had A. Whritner as president and an executive of S. Galbraith, E. E. Saunders, S. Oakland and Rev. J. P. Cotton.

In 1917 Mr. Saunders sold out to W. E. Howell, who recalls having mail hauled from Vulcan or Lomond by team or car and in 1924 the CPR continued the line from Lomond to Arrowwood and the first mail to come by train was in 1925.

Almost everything, groceries, hardware, dry good, radios and gas were handled at the post office to whites and Indians of the Blackfoot tribe, many of whom were working on the Hardwicks Lazy H Ranch.

The first telephone was installed in 1920 and later there were a few others, including the Hardwick's barbed-wire fence phone.

A number of other persons ran the post office in succeeding years and Bill Marks was its final manager until it closed in 1959. From that time the district post office address was changed to Lomond.

Other Armada businesses were a blacksmith shop, a garage, dairy business, and a building in which silent movies were shown, parties given and dances held. There were two implement agencies and a Bank of Hamilton as well as the elevators.

First elevator was the UGG built in 1924, followed by the Alberta Wheat Pool in 1928. In March 3, 1925, No. 1 Northern wheat was priced at $1.82 and on Dec. 16, 1932 the price was 19½ cents.

Poorest year for Armada elevators was in 1937 when they were both closed for the following season. Little better was the year 1937 when total handlings were only 28,465 bushels. Good years were 1927-28 when 260,057 bushels of grain were handled.

Tom Lucas, now retired at Vulcan, recalls 1917 when Lake McGregor started to fill and one early morning he crossed a grade on the lake bottom only to have to go through a foot of water to return at night.

The road has never been used since and the lake was finally full in 1919. A popular pastime on the lake was boat excursions in a 20-30 passenger craft powered by a Model T engine and operated by Mr. Jenijohn. On one occasion Harley Wilcox attempted to swim across the lake hanging to a rope behind the boat but this almost ended in disaster.

In 1919 Mr. Hardwick lost 1,500 head of cattle in a blizzard and then gave motherless calves to anyone in the district who would take them.

Also on the human side there was the Rev. J. P. Cotton who, before the days of penicillin, died in three days from a small injury to his hand which became infected.

Then there was 1921 in which Mr. Lucas lost a quarter-section of crop overnight to cutworms and got help to reseed the land but was still defeated with no crop that year.

In Mrs. Amy Stokes memories is the time when students were writing departmental exams that a dust storm got so bad the class had to be moved to Mrs. Sarah Craine's home and wet towels were kept on the window sills to keep some of the dust out and allow exams to proceed.

Life Goes On At Post Office

In its first full year of operation in 1910 the Lomond Post Office, then known as the Brunetta Post Office, did $118.50 worth of business with G. R. Plumb as postmaster. In June 1, 1915 the name was changed to Lomond and there followed in the next 51 years, nine changes of staff. They were Frank Wilson, A. Parker, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Ferris, James McQueen, Benjamin King, George Hedges, S. Croissant and Leonard Chase who has been postmaster since 1950.

In 1965 the postal revenue was $2,836.84. Two robberies, one in October of 1932 and the other in September, 1936 and a fire in January of 1940 provided the most exciting moments in post office history.

HEARTIEST CONGRATULATIONS TO LOMOND AND DISTRICT

. . . in reaching the half-century milestone. We pay tribute to such pioneers as Anton Volesky, pictured here, who through their honest endeavor, broke the land and developed this farming area and made this community possible. It has been our aim for many years to provide a pleasant recreation for residents of the area.

1930 CULTURE. The building of the Armada UFA Hall in 1919 by Jens Sokvitne led to many memories of sports and social events held there. Pioneers will remember still the concerts, card parties, picture shows, sing-songs and Christmas programs held there. In 1930 a group of actors produced the play "The Absent-Minded Bridegroom," the cast of which is pictured above. From left to right are John Martin, Ada Kunkel, Ronnie Howell, Flo Swansberg, Mrs. Mamie Dawson, Eileen Williams, Harvey Howell, Irvine Kunkel, Verne Williams, Berdella Williams, Wilma Grainger and Arthur Swansberg.

The Armada hall was used so extensively that it became more shaky as the years passed and in more recent times a new one was built containing basement, kitchen, stage and main hall. Mrs. Mamie Dawson was given the honor of cutting the ribbon opening the building. This hall was not a contractor's job but the work, sweat and financial project of everyone in the district.

Railway, Elevators Helped Travers

If the names Pete Brodie, George, Guy and Tom Beemish, William Dunlop, A. Keen, George Greenier, John Duluski, Tom Emelson, J. W. Murphy, Fred Vanholm, George Witting and Sidney Thurlow ring a familiar bell, your ties might have been with the Travers district at one time. These were settlers who, from the years around 1910 faced hardships through the lack of shelter, water, weather and long distance hauling to open up this country.

Wheat was at first taken to Lehtbridge, 55 miles distant, then to Carmangay in 1911 and in 1912 to Champion and finally in 1914 the railway came to Travers and the distance hauling was over.

Early settlers got their mail at Sundial, southwest of Travers, then in 1909 a post office was opened at Sweet Valley, four miles north of Travers. Soon another post office store was opened at Rosemead. A carpenter, Alex Clark came to the district before 1916 and to him goes credit for construction of many of Travers' homes.

With the coming of the CPR Rosemead store and post office were moved to Travers. At one time Travers had a bank, barber shop, butcher shop, harness shop, two hardwares, two lumber yards, two blacksmiths, two livery barns, three restaurants or boarding houses, three garages or machine shops, three grocery stores, a men's furnishing, a pool room, hotel and a real estate agency.

Unusual now but normal then was Ed. Lowe, a school teacher, who taught at Gold Coin School and lived at Travers, going back and forth daily by bicycle. Evenings and Saturdays he cut hair as a barber.

Then there was the blacksmith, Andy Olsen who came into possession of his business after a procession of others had gone before him. A big, strapping man, they say whose spare-time hobby was crocheting.

Guy Paulson started a pool room, sold the premises to W. A. Tesky of Lomond and then erected another building, this time with a dance hall uptairs. This business thrived until the early '20's when fire destroyed the building and its owner moved on to Patricia.

George Witting drove the first car in the district which was known as a "Gas-buggy." Either its performance was not always perfect or gas occasionally was not to be had as an early settler recalls having seen Mr. Witting on his way to Lethbridge with a horse hitched to the front of his "Gas-buggy."

As with so many thriving towns, the depression years were a paralyzing blow and today Travers has dwindled to about one store in which is located the post office, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Steeves.

Now the district "Is under ditch" and its future as uncertain as the surrounding areas where irrigation and increased demand for specialized crops could one day see a reversal in population and farming methods.

Sincere Best Wishes

It has been my pleasure to have been a resident of Lomond district since 1909 and in business for the past 14 years. On this happy occasion of Lomond's 50th Anniversary I pay my respects to the early pioneers. I wish all the best for Lomond in the coming years.

The CPR came to Lomond on July 10, 1914 and had been constucted from Suffield to Retlaw as a part of the Medicine Hat division, the previous year. The subdivision west from Lomond, a part of the Lethbridge division with construction from Lomond to Armada and then to Arrowwood, was completed in 1925.

First station agent at Lomond was Charlie Owen and as no home had been built for him, he and his family lived in a boxcar alongside the track. Later agents were W. H. Williamson, Albert Dilley, W. H. Pierce, F. Reeves, J. Flynn, O. C. Brown, J. A. Brown, M. Munroe, T. Bonogofsky, C. Bauer and J. Bauer and G. Kaszyk, the present agent. Section foremen at Lomond have been Joe Delowski, Carl Susinski, Frank Manitavich and the present foreman Norman Hammer.

The first CPR night watchman was Billy Couch, then followed Fred Giles, George Hedges, Jack Matheson, Laurie Martel, Oscar Hoffman, Jack Kraemer and James Adams. At present Bill Tyler is in charge.

"OUR ROCK-PICKER"

FIFTY YEARS AGO

In the minds of oldtimers today's machinist and welder would be akin to the blacksmith whose business was shoeing horses and making wagon wheels. Over the years we have tried to keep pace with the times and wish to thank the many people whose friendship and patronage have made this possible.

Congratulations and Welcome to Pioneers

The Lomond district has been home to me and I feel I have shared with oldtimers, many memories of the days and years filled with joy and hardships which accompanied the development of our area. Therefore I am especially delighted at the prospect of the coming celebration July 8, 9 and 10, to renew old acquaintances.

Imperial Oil's service to this district began in 1925, almost as soon as there was any machinery on which to use its products and for the past 20 years it has been my pleasure to have been their dealer for this area.
